Montreal

2005 Preliminary Program

October 27-30, 2005

Le Centre Sheraton • Montreal, PQ, Canada

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF PSYCHIATRY AND THE LAW 2005 ANNUAL MEETING

GOALS:

To inform attendees about current major issues in forensic psychiatry and afford them opportunities to refresh skills in the fundamentals of the discipline, engage in discussion with peers on the standards governing the profession, and update their present knowledge.

CME TARGET AUDIENCE:

Psychiatrists and other physicians working at the interface of law and psychiatry.

OBJECTIVES:

Participants will improve their skills in forensic psychiatry in the following three areas:

- 1) Service, including treatment of forensic patients, development of service delivery strategies, and enhancement of consultative abilities at the interface of psychiatry and the legal profession;
- 2) Teaching, including new methods of training of forensic psychiatrists and classification of the tasks and functions of forensic psychiatrists; and
- 3) Research, gaining access to scientific data in areas that form the basis for practice of the discipline.

ACCREDITATION:

The American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Academy of Psychiatry and the Law designates this educational activity for a maximum of 33 category 1 credits toward the AMA Physician's Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only those credits that he/she actually spent in the activity.

COURSES

Child Murder by Parents

Phillip J. Resnick, MD

Andrea Yates, Susan Smith, and Amy Grossberg/Brian Peterson have recently increased public awareness about parents killing their children. Forty-one percent of depressed mothers with children under the age of three report thoughts of killing their children. This course will explicate why some parents carry out the homicides. The motives for killing newborns (neonaticide) will be distinguished from the killing of children older than 24 hours (filicide). Child-murder by parents will be divided into five categories: altruistic (includes child homicide associated with suicide, and to relieve suffering), acutely psychotic, unwanted child, child maltreatment (fatal battered child), and spouse revenge.

Using Forensic Assessment Instruments

Chad E. Tillbrook, PhD

The presentation will address the rationale and goals of forensic assessment, how to select appropriate tools, and how to conscientiously integrate these measures into reports and testimony. Participants will be introduced to six measures covering three areas: competence to stand trial, malingering, and psychopathy. We will critically examine each measure's purpose, administration, and psychometric properties. Special attention will be given to the instruments' clinical applications, including their utility, generalizability, and limitations. This course will include short video illustrations and question and answer periods following each segment. Handouts will include detailed reviews of these forensic assessment instruments, suggestions for further reading, and references.

Forensic Practice in Employment Cases

James J. McDonald, Jr., JD

This course, presented by an experienced employment attorney and editor of the "Mental and Emotional Injuries in Employment Litigation," will first present an overview of the basic legal principles at issue in employment matters. This will be followed by a presentation of topics to assist the forensic psychiatrist to be a more effective expert witness, such as the relationship between counsel and expert, obtaining all of the materials needed through the discovery process (and potential impact of HIPAA and privacy laws), avoiding undue restrictions on the scope of the examination, formulation of credible diagnoses, the role of Axis II pathology in employment litigation, avoidance of "junk science," and preparation for effective direct and cross examination. The program will also highlight the differences between the roles of expert witness and ADA fitness for duty examiner.

How To Make Your Best Presentation Now!

Britta Ostermeyer, MD

This course will demonstrate how to make a successful psychiatric presentation. Focusing on how to prepare materials such as slides and videos and how to present a lecture with humor, punch, and passion that captures the audience's attention. Title selection, abstract organization, presentation preparation, public speaking skills, and closing remarks will be discussed. Special emphasis will be given on how to make best use of PowerPoint. There will be a demonstration of teaching techniques and how to hold the audience's attention using humor and passion, anecdotes, vivid images, and video clips. How to increase audience satisfaction and how to locate relevant information to forensic psychiatric information will also be demonstrated. Participants are encouraged to bring PowerPoint slides on CD for a three-minute talk.
